

Radhanath Swami Maharaj addressing the gathering.

Spiritual harvest for industrialists

By Edrich Miranda

That asceticism and spirituality promotes industrial fortunes was the theme of a seminar by his holiness Radhanath Swami Maharaj – Spiritual leader and author of international best-seller 'Journey Home'. Swamiji was addressing industrialist and businessmen from all over the world, who had converge at Govardhan, in Eco village, Thane, on December 8 and 9. Elucidating how to promote health, wealth, happiness and peace, through spirituality he said, many negative events happen in one's life, but if one is spiritually geared-up, it does not have a negative effect on one's life, as one can face these situations comfortably.

Hrishikesh A. Mafatlal, of Mafatlal Group, who was one of the speakers, shared his experience of misfortunes during the 1960's, when the textile industry was in doldrums and other Radhanath Swami Maharaj – Spiritual leader and author of international best-seller 'Journey Home', addressed industrialists, businessmen and entrepreneurs from all over the world. During his address he told them that if one is spiritually geared-up, the negative events in one's life cannot have any effect, as one can face these situations comfortably with the aid of spirituality.

businesses weren't doing well. Another speaker delved on meditation, saying it need not be sitting in one place and in a tranquilised atmosphere, meditation after all is connecting with god and that can be done during the course of our day-to-day affairs.

Speaker after speaker extolled the virtues of incorporating spiritual values in contemporary businesses; and the dividends that come along.

Flying in from Singapore, especially to participate in the seminar, was C.E.O., Sai Sudhakar, of APAR Technologies, Singapore. Rashmi Kamdar, who has business interest in South America, Russia etc; participated and expressed satisfaction with the business acumen dispensed. Amongst other businessmen, Navin Kumar of Nityo Infotech, Shri Rajesh Talwar Associate Partner of 'Basil Partners' – Financial Advisory Firm, claims to be regularly attending and has benefited from such seminars.

The Guest of Honour included Dr. Ajit Kumar Jindal Tata Motors; Ramesh Talwalkar, Director Share Engineering; Ral of Dhoot Techno Projects;